THE PAT PRICE 1972-3 REMOTE VIEWING PAPERS.

The Amazing Pat Price and His Secret UFO Remote Viewing (1972-3)

by Daz Smith and friends...

For many of us who have spent our lives learning the art of remote Viewing and its complicated and sometimes obscure history, one of the names from the past always springs forth. That is the legend, Patrick Price. Pat's short but sweet participation in the U.S. government remote viewing program remains one of myth and intrigue -- a mishmash of CIA involvement, Scientology, Russian spying, aliens & UAPS, and then his mysterious death in 1975 several weeks after being employed by the CIA.

A Star Gate CIA FOIA file[1] on Pat Price states:

> //In 1973 a second formidable psychic came on board. He was Pat Price, a retired police inspector. Price had no trouble becoming extremely adept at RV. In Summer 1973, Price, working only from a set of geographic coordinates read to him, provided striking descriptions of a "military-like" facility.
> As it turned out, the place was a sensitive NSA installation in West Virginia. Price was able to penetrate into the building and among other accurate descriptions, was able to correctly name people working there—but, most important, spoke out classified code words he "read" from file folders.
> Next, CIA decided to give Price the coordinates of a Soviet facility whose exact R8D mission was unknown. An extremely elaborate protocol was developed to guard against fraud or other criticism.
> Price again provided a great deal of information, but typically there was a mix of signal to noise; good data co-mingled with spurious. Of particular note, however, is a drawing and oral description of a large "crane" at the target site. Later, CIA analysts concluded that either Remote Viewing had taken place, or Price had intimate knowledge of the URDF-3 (an overhead platform).
> It was decided to see if Price could operationally assist in technical collection efforts. In two tests checked against the interior plans of foreign embassies known to CIA audio specialists, Price correctly located the code rooms, leading the operations officer to agree that the method did have operational potential.
> In Fall 1974, an experiment was conducted in-house by CIA engineers familiar with the SRI-Price coordinates protocol. The result was a description of what could only be a SA-5 missile training site at the coordinates. The Libyan desk officer was impressed, and indicated that a HUMINT agent had previously reported the same information.
> In July 1975, Libyan coordinates were provided to Price, who came back with a description of a guerrilla training site again, confirmed by CIA analysts from clandestine agent reporting. The same month Price tragically died of a heart attack.//

From another online source: Wikitree[2]

> // On 13 July 1975 he flew from West Virginia to Washington, DC, where he had met with people from the Office of Naval Intelligence and the National Security Agency that were involved in the work he was doing at SRI. He did not reveal the scope nor the content of the meetings to his friend, but he did say he was bringing documents with him and should anything happen to him while he was in Las Vegas, Nevada, his friend was to secure the material and forward it to Puthoff before the local police took possession of it.
> The same day, he flew from Washington, DC to Salt Lake City where he met with his son who interestingly enough had a position on President Gerald Ford's White House Staff. He spent two or three hours with his son and then flew on to Las Vegas, Nevada, USA.
> His friend picked him up at the airport and they went to the Stardust Hotel. On the way to the registration desk, a man accidently bumped into Price. Whether or not this bump was in any way significant is open only to c onjecture. But shortly thereafter, Pat "began to feel lousy". Throughout the night he suffered some pain and was having trouble breathing. At 5 am he called his friend for help. Pat was coherent and not complaining of any pain in his arms nor in his chest area. But his witnessed Pat convulsing repeatedly. When the paramedics arrived they shocked him without success.
> Pat died on 14 Jul 1975 in a Stardust Hotel room in Las Vegas, Clark County, Nevada, USA, supposedly of a heart attack, but under suspicious circumstances. Some suspect he was murdered by the KGB or a Russian double-agent.//

Further information on the background and fuzzy demise of Pat Price can be found in the excellent 2019 documentary Third Eye Spies.[3]

Project 8200

One day in 1973 Pat price walked into the office of Hal Puthoff, tossed a file onto his desk and said – you might be interested in these UFO bases. In the early 1980's Puthoff passed the same folder to Skip Atwater saying 'You might be interested in this'.

This led to Project 8200, which was an unofficial project instigated by Skip Atwater to utilise second generation Star Gate remote viewers in an attempt to verify or refute the 1972-73 UAP/alien data provided by Pat Price to Hal Puthoff. Over the years many notable remote viewers including Joe McMoneagle, Mel Riley and Lyn Buchanan were tasked against the locations cited in the Price papers.

Until now the complete set of pages in Pat Price's document has not been published.

The FULL Pat Price Alien Bases Document

This is the full 47 pages of text and drawings that Pat Price put on Hal Puthoff's desk at Stanford Research Institute in 1973. Price had produced these materials on his own, not as part of his assignments at SRI. The document is a startling one about alien bases inside four mountains on planet earth: Mt. Hayes in Alaska, Mt. Perdido in Spain, Mt. Inyangani [now Nyangani] in Zimbabwe, and Mt. Zeil in Australia.

Coordinates for Underground UFO Bases:

Mount Perdido – Spain 42° 40´ N 0° 02´ E

Mount Inyangani – Zimbabwe 18° 18´ S 32° 54´ E

Mount Hayes – Alaska 63° 39´ N 146° 45´ W

Mount Ziel – Australia 23° 30´ S 132° 24´ E

The document describes and illustrates the mountain sites, the nature of the bases, the administration of the bases by aliens, their "ships" and other technology, their agents and their infiltration of human society, and a renegade group which is at war with them. There are also pages about a major storm and Price's claim that he could, and did, manipulate the weather.

Hal Puthoff passed on the documents to Skip Atwater, who held on to them for many years. Skip Atwater used about 20 of the 47 pages from Price's original document in his Project 8200. The remainder have not been published previously.

Preparing the document for publication

We have typed up a "regularized version" of the original handwritten pages so that the document is more readable alongside the originals. This version retains the lay-out of the original pages.

We have inserted comments next to terms or lines which require clarification or explanation.
Some lines are not readable and we note that in our comment boxes.

Of particular note, Pat Price was a member of Scientology (SCN) and he uses several terms from the SCN lexicon in the document. One of his monitors, Hal Puthoff, was also a Scientologist at the time and would understand the references. We note several of those terms and the SCN understanding of them given in the Technical Dictionary of Dianetics and Scientology. A former member of SCN was instrumental in obtaining and interpreting these documents. He wishes to remain anonymous.

Timing

We obtained a copy of this document in 2022 and we had extensive dialogues about it, its potential release, its implications and more importantly the timing. I (Daz) was very concerned because we were at a peak of whistleblower and UAP disclosure and we were gaining great momentum in this area.

I also reached out to the original owner of the Price documents, Hal Puthoff, for confirmation and clarification on a few points but did not get my usual response – just radio silence and this too concerned me. So, after many conversations we decided to hold on releasing the materials.

So why have I changed my mind?

For one the disclosure seems to have been halted by the gatekeepers. The fightback occurred and we seem to be in a stalemate. Secondly I am concerned that I am seeing a growing narrative of people using and promoting the use of remote viewing and CE5 to contact NHI (Non human Intelligence). I know from my three decades of experience in these conjoined areas that this has great hazards for many people. I have stated many times that RV is not a toy to be messed with.

We now also have a wealth of growing data to support a theory that UAP/alien interaction can have negative and positive physical and psychological effects. This has been recorded in books like: Skinwalkers at the Pentagon: An Insiders' Account of the Secret Government UFO Program (Lacatski, James)[4]

> //Therefore, among certain people, the phenomenon can "invade" households, family groups, and communities and, acting like an infectious entity, can cause these small groups harm (health and well-being).//
> // family members, many of whom in turn have been diagnosed with autoimmune disease, including Sjogren's syndrome, Hashimoto's Thyroiditis, Myasthenia Gravis, Graves' disease, Systemic Lupus Erythematosus (lupus), rheumatoid diseases, fibromyalgia and more. This finding can be considered one of the signature advances from the AAWSAP program.//
> // Independent of Skinwalker Ranch, the AAWSAP reports delivered to DIA described a number of individuals who came in close contact with UAPs, and shortly thereafter suffered from a range of immune system related symptoms, including changes in immune cell number and immune function as measured by alterations in circulating blood neutrophil/lymphocyte ratios, sudden autoimmune antigen expression, and more//

Colm A. Kelleher writes in his article in Edge Science, The Pentagons' Secret UFO program, the Hitchhiker Effect and Model of Contagion (June 2022)[5]

// All five DIA personnel deployed to the ranch experienced profound anomalies while on the property, and more importantly, all five "brought something home" with them.//

// Axelrod, accompanied by Jim Costigan and David Wilson, encountered an anomaly on the ranch that caused a lot of fear in all three men. But little did he know that this incident was only the beginning of his troubles. Within a month of arriving back home in Virginia, a plethora of paranormal phenomena suddenly erupted in Axelrod's home.

For several years following his July 2009 and subsequent trips to the Ranch, Axelrod's wife and teenage children were subjected to nightmarish "dogmen" appearing in their back-yard; two blue, red, yellow, and white orbs routinely floating through the home and in the yard; to black shadow people standing over their beds when they awoke; and to a relentless barrage of loud, unexplained footsteps walking up and down the stairs of their house.//

// The Axelrod family also suffered health effects with the wife suffering flare-ups of Systemic Lupus Erythematosus (Lupus) and Raynaud's Disease. Both Axelrod teenagers also endured intense flu-like symptoms at different times following anomalies in their home, with the most serious medical symptoms occurring in the younger teenager.//

// This feeling of "bringing something home" and the subsequent person to person transmissibility of paranormal phenomena, some of which can last for years, has been named the Hitchhiker Effect. In an April 2022 interview, Skinwalker Ranch research team member Dr. Jim Segala addressed the Hitchhiker phenomenon: "Over the past five years, it has been our experience that when people interact with the phenomena and do not treat the phenomena with respect, that's when we see a higher rate of the Hitchhiker Syndrome. Symptoms experienced by people range from acute neurological injuries to chronic blood disease. Those who have told us that they have brought home a souvenir often have some type of illness as well as family members. The data again comes from years of tracking and collecting data from those who have come forward."//

//The Hitchhiker Effect is not unique to Skinwalker Ranch. The A AWSAP research team found that even close encounters with UFOs in locations unrelated to Skinwalker Ranch produced a version of the Hitchhiker Effect.//

So it's with a warning really that I/we present this data. We do not know whom or what we are remote viewing or contacting. The Pat Price documents and new scientific data indicate that there is potential for harm from contact/experiences with UAP's and NHI's -- on many levels, both physical and psychological. There is even potential transmissibility to family and friends.

Pat's initial data indicates a global manipulation of humans on many levels and the ability to remove and unalive humans at will. So be warned, be very careful.

As with ALL remote viewing information it should always be used and verified with other sources of information – we still do not have full feedback verification on Pat's original 1972/73 information or the following Project 8200 data. We release this to both inform and to warn anyone considering contact to be VERY careful in what you do and wish for.

When new wave pattern is discovered - admin unit determines frequency - distance - power output - pulse etc.
Data fed to computer - Computer determines match or mismatch with all stored crystals - if match Computer states known sources of that particular pattern.

If mismatch, alert is sounded & are ordered to physically seek out source of power output and to monitor - get data & return.

Oscilloscope data creates new crystal and all known data is stored in computer for future use!

All new patterns are investigated until enough data is secured to determine source & utility of new pattern Alert is maintained until new source is determined to have negative potential on their own actions!

If activity assumes any potential for discovery personnel are deployed physically in activity to make certain of failure of that particular project.

It comes to mind that these “people” have infiltrated all Govts in sensitive positions, in positions of power to stop politically any activity that may produce a result that could cause discovery.

Back to Hayes
Just determined that this site has been responsible for strange activity & malfunction on US-Soviet space projects

The computers at the site is fed all data acquisition from all space activity on earth, U.S. Soviet etc.

Can cause false commands to space vehicles which results in underseen & unusual behavior of vehicles & crew.

8 pm Sep Sep 30 1973
Decided to return to Hayes Site - activity very quiet in fact very relaxed
So I decided to look at Inyangani location
Located facing east in peak area about 6200!! …. C
This area is not same as 1st …. I looked at:
This base looks like overhaul and maintenance unit can see lots of Spare Equipt etc.:
Also personnel don't appear to be quite as sharp as other two units.
They are doing some welding - looks different than I've seen before parts being welded are put in a vacuum chamber with window area. Then part pre fused. A Greyish white powder is pasted on to both parts then fused.

S.11

I

While I was looking at the welding unit my attention was drawn to a unit that several people are working on
It is a Tubular Grid System

Electrical connections are on opposite ends of tubes alternately

Welded across the top of the tubes is a unit that looks like a wave guide.
from “A” end of wave guide is a connection (elec) to junction Bct “C” from “B” end of wave guide is (Elec) connection to Bct C

I get the impression that the whole unit is for ionizing a layer of air, has something to do with smog.

Ionize a layer of air & it traps air mass below it. Well I’ll look at this more later on -

Decided to look at the Bermuda Triangle
and determine the nature of the area

If you extend vector lines from each of the four locations & intersect them on the tip of Florida you get two lines of the Bermuda Triangle.

For great ages of time the tip of Florida
was the compass setting for trade routes
and navigational computations for incoming immigrants
from South Amer - Africa - Europe

This made an ideal site for acquisition of physical data (monitoring point)

When it was decided that physical data of a general nature was desirable the units went to this area and set up a magnetic - electrical disturbance - guided in whatever the target was
i.e. ship - plane, used tractor beam device
to hold target, physically took personnel aboard then disintegrated vehicle and returned to their base - did a preliminary data withdrawal from personnel (victims) then transferred them to their home space for further study - mainly post mortem -

some they did an operation on - heart -lung & transported them alive

DECIDED TO LOOK AT THE BERMUDA TRIANGLE
AND DETERMINE THE NATURE of the AREA.
IF YOU EXTEND VECTOR LINES FROM EACH
of the four LOCATIONS & INTERSECT THEM ON the TIP of FLORIDA YOU GET TWO LINES of the
BERMUDA TRIANGLE.
FOR GREAT AGES of TIME the TIP of FLORIDA
WAS the COMPASS SETTING FOR TRADE ROUTES
& NAVIGATIONAL COMPUTATIONS for INCOMING IMMIGRANTS
from SOUTH AMER - AFRICA - EUROPE.
THIS MADE AN IDEAL SITE for ACQUISITION of
PHYSICAL DATA (MONITORING POINT).
WHEN IT WAS DECIDED THAT PHYSICAL DATA of A GENERAL NATURE WAS DESIREABLE the UNITS WENT
TO THIS AREA AND SET up A MAGNETIC - ELECTRICAL DISTURBANCE - GUIDED IN WHATEVER the TARGET WAS
ie. SHIP - PLANE, USED TRACTOR BEAM DEVICE
TO HOLD TARGET, PHYSICALLY TOOK PERSONEL ABOARD
THEN DISINTIGRATED VEHICLE AND RETURNED TO THEIR BASE - did A PRELIMINARY DATA WITHDRAWAL
FROM PERSONEL (VICTIMS) THEN TRANSFERED THEM
TO THEIR HOME SPACE FOR FURTHER STUDY -
MAINLY POST MORTEM -
SOME they did AN OPERATION ON -
HEART - LUNGS & TRANSPORTED them ALIVE

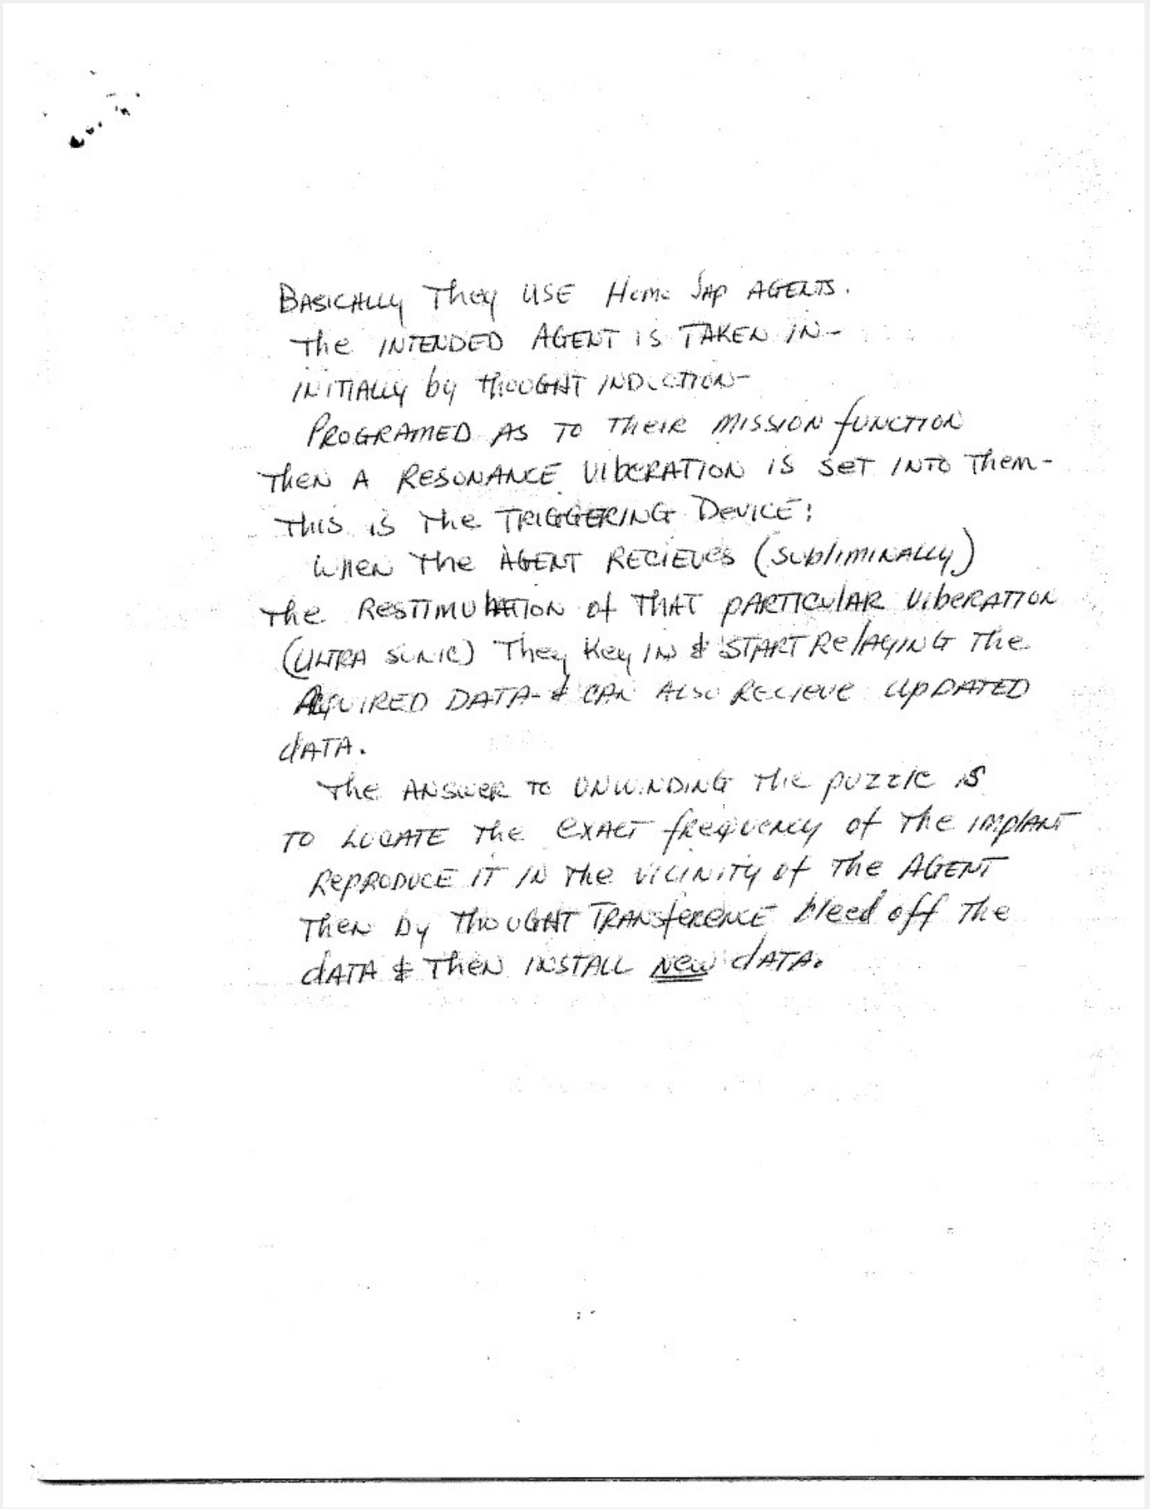

5.24

The intended agent is taken in -
initially by thought induction
programed as to their mission function

Then a resonance vibration is set into them -
This is the triggering device:

When the agent receives (subliminally)
the restimulation of that particular vibration (ultra sound) they key in & start relaying the acquired data & can also receive updated data.

The answer to unwinding the puzzle is
to locate the exact frequency of the implant
reproduce it in the vicinity of the agent
then by thought transference bleed off the data & then install new data

BASICALLY They USE Homo Sap AGENTS.
The INTENDED AGENT IS TAKEN IN-
INITIALLY by THOUGHT INDUCTION-
PROGRAMED AS TO THEIR MISSION FUNCTION
THEN A RESONANCE VIBERATION IS SET INTO THEM-
THIS IS The TRIGGERING DEVICE:
WHEN The AGENT RECIEVES (SUBLIMINALLY)
The RESTIMULATION OF THAT PARTICULAR VIBERATION (ULTRA SONIC) They KEY IN & START RELAYING The ACQUIRED DATA- & CAN ALSO RECIEVE UPDATED
DATA.
The ANSWER TO UNWINDING The PUZZLE IS
TO LOCATE The EXACT frequency of The IMPLANT
REPRODUCE IT IN The VICINITY of The AGENT
Then By THOUGHT TRANSFERENCE bleed off The
DATA & THEN INSTALL NEW DATA.

Decided to take a look at some UFO's tonite!
Located 3 just North of Huntsville, Ala right now they are 68,000 feet cruising on a heading to Oak Ridge Tenn.

have a rendezvous at 10:15 Eastern Time with agent that works in Atomic Energy plant in Oak Ridge Tenn - Name Roy Weeker who has some newly obtained data on enriched material.
Rendezvous on hill located 7 miles NW of Oak Ridge & 6 miles due W of Clinton - Tenn
There is a plateau on ridge on West side of ridge about 3 miles up mt road
They are to meet there - Just one ship is going down others to separate.

No 2 ship is to go to Norfolk Virginia
& photo Norfolk Navy Base - Portsmouth &
Newport News

No 3 is heading to Jacksonville Fla. so far I can't pick up on intention of No 3 -
They are all to rendezvous over Nassau
Bahamas at 12:00 local time.
Then return to their home base
Their Base is #1

850 pm PDST
Took some time to watch the Series
No 2 & 3 are over Bermuda Triangle No 1 is on the way -
No #1 got some data on 3 projects -
#1 MOONBEAM
#2 STARLITE
#3 MOONDUST

Picked up container with sample of material some diagrams on Mercury shielding of new material.

Plan to return to same location next Monday nite.

855 pm - All 3 together now - heading out over Atlantic increasing altitude up to 200,000 ft - heading almost due East

* There was some comment on flight re: Pascagoula incident. In fact some concern Seems someone is playing a truth or some other unknown unit made the contact.

They don't use the technique of altered concept implant. Just use heavy memory shut down procedure -
* It's entirely possible that incident may have pulled off by Crew - from Green Planet

There also was some comment re: renegade fleet from their own home base - It was reported 10 days ago that a dissident group of 30 ships left - It was projected that they had gone elsewhere not to this location.

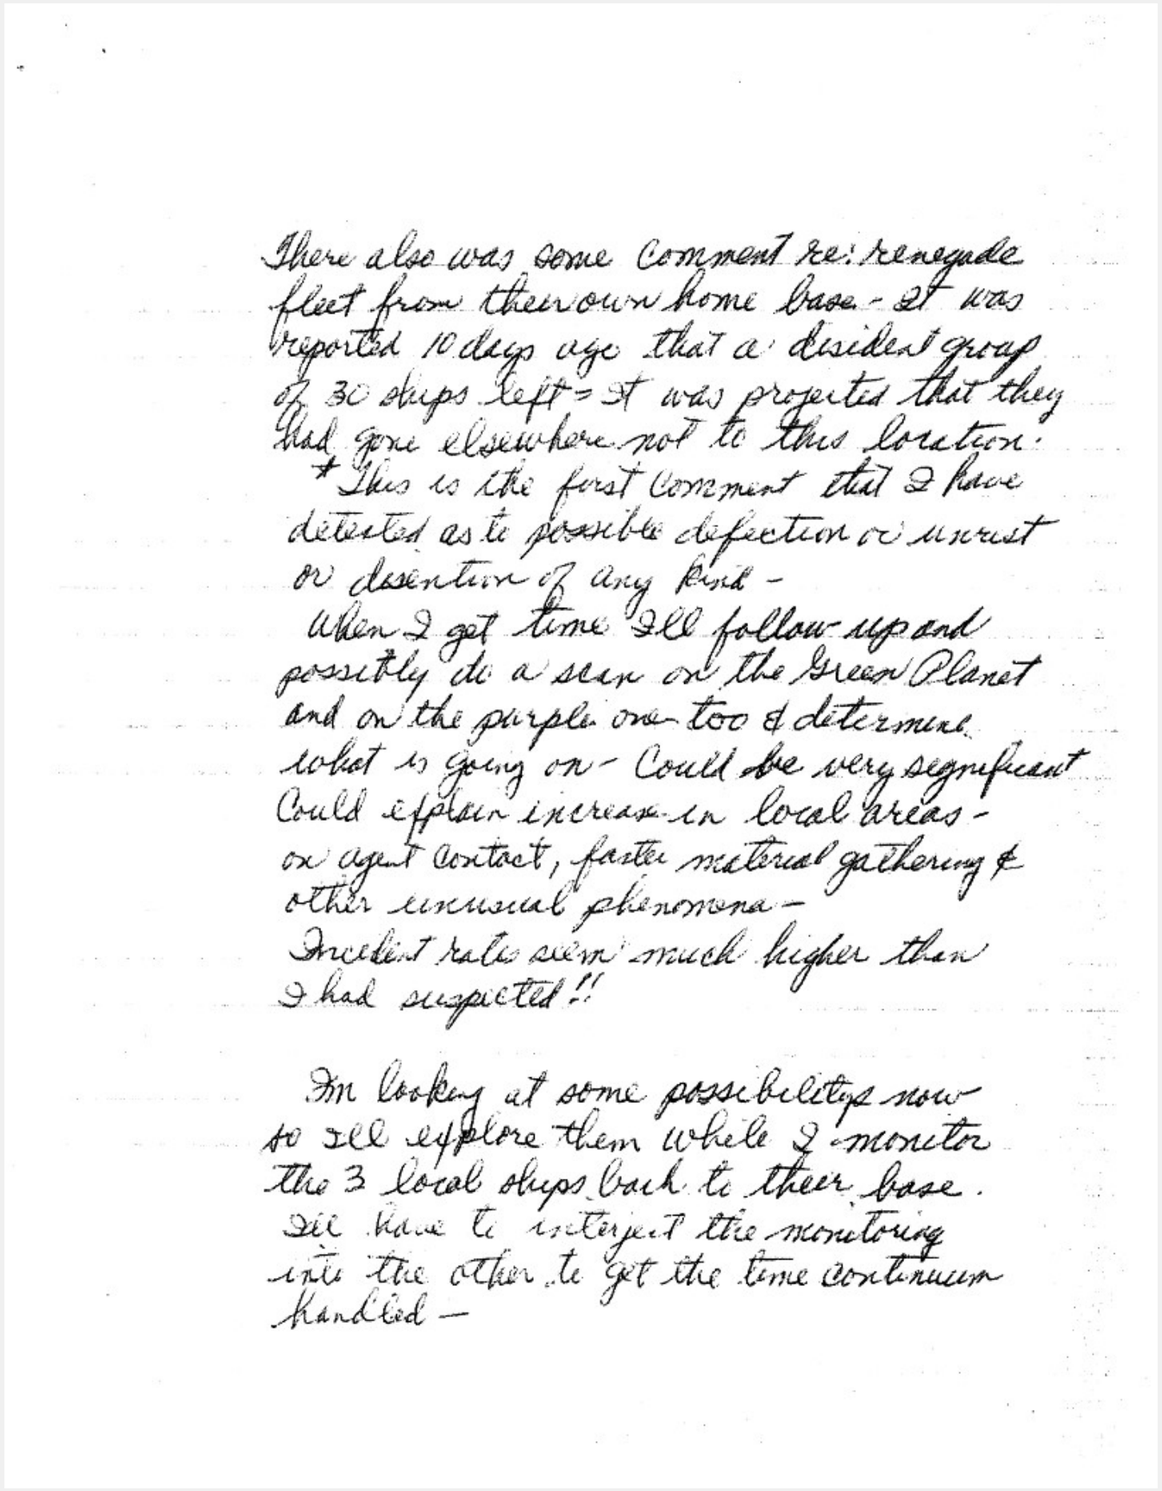

*This is the first comment that I have detected as to possible defection or unrest or dissention of any kind -

When I get time I'll follow-up and possibly do a scan on the Green Planet and on the purple one too & determine what is going on - Could be very significant Could explain increase in local areas - on agent contact, faster material gathering & other unusual phenomena -

Incident rate seems much higher than I had suspected!!

In looking at some possibilities now - So Ill explore them while I monitor the 3 local ships back to their base

I'll have to interject the monitoring into the other to get the time continuum handled -

Possibilities are
(1) May be a revolt on home planet (Purple) dissident groups may have broken away and have established bases on earth
If so this could pose a serious problem to the regular established bases as it is common information as to other locations of primary mission responsibilities

They may infiltrate & take over earth bases.

All 3 are on communication - Later I'll have a look at "tech" on …. line
When … … local home …
direct do not rendezvous again!
The dissidents may located elsewhere
& make new contacts with all known Homo Sep agents to cause upset.

Other possibility is Green Planet may be making a move on purple planet.
I already know that they have their own agents infiltrated into power lines of purple planet

This may be the opening gun on total takeover of purple by green -
In any event sure looks interesting as hell -

I'll try not to be so busy as to neglect the area at least for the next week or so.

Decided to pull into this area some units
to test the perceptic ability Noticed last nite they arrived in general area about 1/2 hour after I finished my scanning - Going to see if the same tech works tonite
if it does there should be sightings around 905 - 930 coming in from N.W.

should hit land 20 miles N of Pt Reyes & fly
on a course toward Fresno -
From Fresno should turn due West & hit Coast between Vandenberg & Pismo Beach
then up Coast to Monterey Bay then back into our Valley again - Should stay in our area then for at least 1 hour

I plan to go outside in few minutes
take my binoculars & watch for them - 737 Going outside now 836 Stayed for an hour didn't see a damn thing but some Aircraft!!

So I'll scan &see where in the hell

Looked at Site #1
Still working on equipment doesn't seem to be anything unusual going on - about same number of personnel Although the launch recovery area is empty - Generally 5 or 6 units in secondary

Must have put out all available units.
Incidentally the units from this base have a hull marking like this

Looks like its etched not painted.
Kinda of frosty color on metal.

Taking a look at the communication system I wrote about the other day.
While I'm looking at the setup its so unreal I notice the inval buttons trying to work so I must be right -

I somehow have the feeling that smog situations are a deliberately created condition!!

In fact I could state that the area of air immediately above the smog belt is in fact ionized.

In exploring the thought, it comes to me that installations are planted & activated remotely to create the conditions to cause smog

The idea seems to fit. We certainly have spent billions on smog abatement - etc. fits the psycho-political pattern also - (i.e.) Interiorize attention on an artificial problem by pointing out the threat of survival by the problem, then trigger your agents to beat the drums & keep attention focalized on the problem. Then spend-control

*Spend to bring the problem under control.
Works beautiful too
Very cunning!!

in Hawaii. There was 120 straight days of rain - heavy enough to knock out construction for that period of time - there were many editorials & news casts on the unusual weather there -

When I returned to L.A one of my friends
mentioned she hated rain & cold - LA. had the lowest rain total & mildest weather in the last hundred years -
That was the winter 71-71 -
Moved to Lake Tahoe mid Spring 72 - Another friend suggested that an early heavy winter was desirable. - Heavy Snows but substantially early & last very heavy all winter clear into late May.
The reason I relate this is to note that I am not unskilled in handling weather, particularly when I have an immediate interest involved.
This storm has some very unusual characteristics

(1) Wind from South in circular pattern
(2) Collision of Warm front moving up from south colliding with cold front moving down from north - (3) Hi(gh)s & Lows of 1500 mile N-S. not of generally excepted prior pattern

There are some Hi(gh)s where there should be lows etc.: very unusual - Now the fact that I'm not doing it and it's happening interests me - So I'm going to find out the source!

It occurs to me that a large area,
say 400 mile diameter area if ionized would create a low in that area,
Then the excess protons (positive) could be laid in an area & that would create a high in that area.

Now the fact that air flows out of a high into a low one could control the direction of the wind -

Now if the normal air flow was down from the North, say North Bering Sea area the normal path would be across the Gulf of Alaska heading essentially South & would start swinging eastward off Canada (West) & the lower extremity of that front would extend South to S-F Bay area - the track would generally be to the East across the U.S.

about 37o out into Atlantic then Northeasterly across Norway Sweden, etc.:

Now if you see that pattern if you put a 200 mile low over say Fresno - Pismo beach & another high in the area of Baja Calif . the result would be warm air would flow down slope from Baja to fill the low centered in Fresno-Pismo area, The normal high off coast of Wash would flow in cold artic air from the north & set up a collision of a very warm front with a cold front and create a very unusual weather pattern - Could also create cyclones etc.: same way.

Now this particular storm strikes me as having that exact pattern - looks like area of Fresno-Pismo Beach air has been ionized about 6000 ft level

I note that at 40,000 - 60,000 ft area above Fresno-Pismo has ice clouds while there is a temp inversion at 6000 ft level.

The atmosphere in vicinity of Gulf of positive charge in atmosphere (not normal)

The pattern of Hi-Low in Western U.S. is not normal or usual.
It occurs to me that one could do considerable traveling at fairly low altitudes and not be observed in this type of a weather pattern. in fact it's ideal -

Then any unusual occurrence can logically be accounted for by the unusual weather - Any strange flashes of light could well be power transformers etc.
I'm checking now for any craft in

Suddenly it occurs to me that the locals are on a search mode for intruders, that's what they are trying to locate.

As I scanned each unit I located what I thought (analytically) they would be interested in, in that area
Now when I get off the analytical band
I realize that each of the areas has very remote isolated areas around - Ideal for a dissident group to find
temporary sanctuary in -

In fact I just located 3 on ground

before I do that I note that locals are armed to the teeth & seem very nervous. have never seen that like that since I've

Suddenly it occurs to me that the
locals are on a search mode for intruders, thats what they are trying
to locate.
As I scanned each unit I located
what I thought (Analytically) they would
be interested in, in that area
Now when I get off the analytical band
I realize that each of the areas has
very remote isolated areas around -
Ideal for a dissident group to find
temporary sanctuary in -
In fact I just located 3 on ground
east of Olancha Caly in very high mountains east of Mt Whitney.
* Couldn't figure out why #3 of Group 1 was cruising that God forsaken stretch of country -
Now I'll try to locate the other 27
if I have time right now - been scouting them.

In fore & aft sections on both sides of mid ship line are launchers 3 in each section that's a total of 12 launchers - unit inside looks like a ram jet with atomic war head - looks very efficient - looks like they are guided by laser

Can see video display in fore bay of ship 3 dimensional display looks like fire control center very sophisticated, will look in detail later & diagram - Also note change in uniform, material looks much different - gives impression of pressure suit in lieu of flexible clothing plus solid helmets self contained.

Also 3 smaller attack craft in aft section of Craft looks about 12 ft dia x 5-1/2 ft keel to crown haven't seen this size unit before

* have to end off for now - have company
coming! 1110 pm

#2 Group (3)

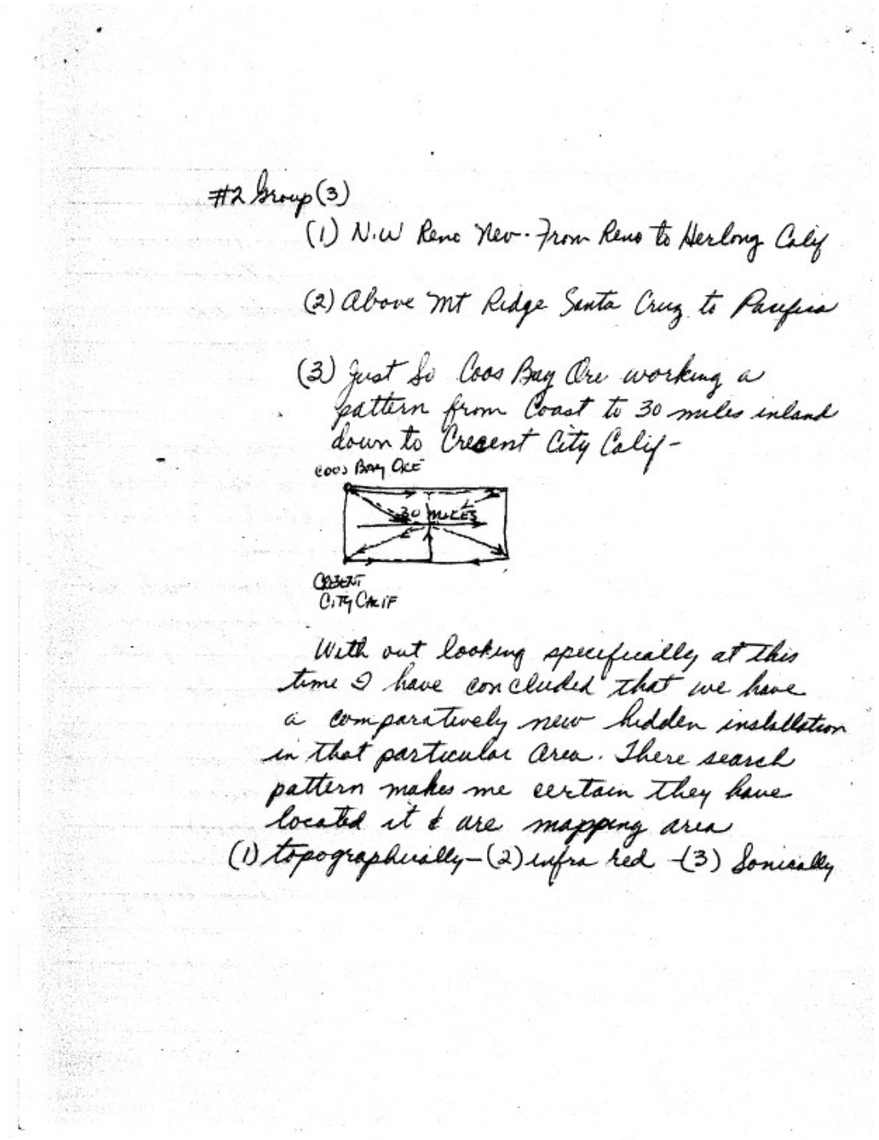

(1) N. W Reno Nev - from Reno to Herlong Calif

(2) Above Mt Ridge Santa Cruz to Pacifica

(3) Just So Coos Bay Ore working a pattern from Coast to 30 miles inland down to Crescent City Calif -

Without looking specifically at this time I have concluded that we have a comparatively new hidden installation in that particular area. Their search pattern makes me certain they have located it & are mapping area

Looks Like the checkout is over - There should be a number of sightings over the South West part of U.S. and over Australia for the next several weeks.

The dissident group was able to maintain their whereabouts from the locals -

Should be very exciting & humorous as the 2nd group now intends to fly too.
The locals will think the extra sightings are the results of over active imaginations of some homo Sapiens -

The funny part of it is, they were the first to plant the idea - that sightings were due to over active imaginations now they will fall victims to their own propaganda

No Danger at all - It should take about 6 months for the locals to get the idea that the extra sightings are valid.
Then it will be very interesting.
By then they will realize the impact of what has happened!

then the cat & mouse game will start up again the 2nd group will hide again &
the locals will do another 6 week checkout Should be good for at least 1-1/2 years - Still no danger as by that time the locals will realize they haven't come under attack & know the 2nd group intends them
no harm -

That looks like the best time for a personal contact.

The local commander will put out a tentative feeler for a meeting with the 2nd group commander & when that happens
I plan to make contact & offer to act as a mediator.

That way we all could have a safe space.
and a great deal could be accomplished to take the mystery off the lines - I know that I could convince them that we are not all criminals
at least it could be the first meaningful tentative step in the right direction.

I just checked the 4 major bases & they are back in routine normal operation.
I don't have the complete "handle" on the six week ground cycle. It seems that a unit grounded for six weeks needs a recharge or recycle for the propulsion system & the locals feel they are the only ones on this planet that has the material for recharge. I'll have to check that out.

Later on I'll check Site #3 as the material must be located there.

Also I'll check Group #2's locations as I know they are operational - So they must have brought a new system with them.
Well that's all for now.
